

Roy Stapleton CEO Global Logistics Network (left) and Des Vertannes Global VP Cargo –Etihad Airlines, taken beside the Etihad Formula 1 car at a recent exhibition in Thailand

Global Logistics Network attracts 300th member

Morganville, New Jersey - The “Global Logistics Network” today announced that it has reached another major milestone by attracting its 300th registered network member - Explolanka Freight Ltd of Johannesburg, South Africa.

Roy Stapleton CEO Global Logistics Network

Roy Stapleton, President and Founder of Global Logistics Network stated “Our focus since inception in mid-2003 has been to grow our network slowly but consistently by selectively adding only quality-focused members in key locations throughout the globe. We have never sought quantity over quality. However, because of our focus, we have been able to grow beyond our original expectations and it is fitting that our 300th member – Explolanka Freight of Johannesburg, South Africa - is a company that exemplifies the highest standards and pursuit of excellence which we seek in our members.” ✈️

Kuehne + Nagel to Provide Integrated Logistics Services to Graco, Inc.

Melbourne, Australia - Kuehne + Nagel (K+N) has been awarded a contract to provide integrated logistics services to Graco, Inc. Under the recent agreement, K+N will be providing comprehensive

All warehouse supported in Australia, state- and international and warehousing systems, to ensure compliance with Graco's supply chain labelling, reverse logistics and 24/7 basis.

“We require a comprehensive international expertise for the ongoing success of our Graco Australia operations.”

“This contract is a significant milestone in our logistics services and its supply chain management,” said Jens Pohlmann, National fluid handling and warehousing contract for the provision of responsible for a wide range of around the clock measure, control, and wide range of fluids used in lubrication, industrial settings. These services include international transportation by air, road, and sea, customs clearance, storage, and distribution throughout Australia.

Kuehne + Nagel will provide comprehensive logistics services, covering all aspects of the supply chain. This will be supported by advanced information management systems, such as real-time tracking and visibility.

“Kuehne + Nagel is well as local and international trusted partner for our operations Manager of Graco Australia. Leveraging our expertise while improving efficiency and cost effectiveness,” said Jens Pohlmann.

FORWARD MAGAZINE

Want to grow your business? Then you need to advertise in Forward Magazine, the official publication of the Airforwarders Association.

If you have not already pre-booked an ad for the next issue and would like to, please call 202-393-2818 for a media kit.